Covid-19 and us

"I wish I'd paid attention in high school," a father was saying last weekend, lamenting the possible need to continue teaching their 5-year-old at home if school buildings do not reopen. C-GS kids will continue at home, Gov. Mike DeWine said Monday.

C-GS will continue delivering/handing out meals.

THE CORONA VIRUS aka COVID-19 has affected 2300 students in the area. Parents/families are teaching assistants (page 2). Many of those parents also are enduring layoffs from small and large employers like Whirlpool which has cut production dramatically, putting more than 1,500 (according to workers) employees on unemployment or paid furlough while still employed under the government plan.

When contacted, Whirlpool stated "We continue to be focused on our employees' safety and wellbeing, as well as production to meet customer demand during this rapidly changing Coronavirus outbreak. The photo at the top of the page is a small representation of idle semi-trailers.

STAY AT HOME directives were ordered by the state as well as directing persons who leave at home to wear face coverings - masks - and to maintain "social distance" at least six feet.

Residential, long-term care, and nursing homes have restricted ANY VISITORS except by phone or devices. Some family can "face-time" visit at a resident's window or a glass door.

A building is not the Church

Worshippers at St. Paul Lutherans took cars and pulpit to their parking lot across West Forest for Sunday services. Other churches used Zoom, Skype, radio, and other means of worshipping on Sundays.

Other worshippers were seen scattered across a hillside, much like the Sermon on the Mount.

Schools continuing successful virtual learning

"In regards to the rest of the year, we will continue to instruct via virtual learning for the most part," Supt. Dennis Haft told The Eagle. "We have supplied Chromebooks to all who are in need and the teachers are able to do remote lessons with students. This format seems to be working well," Haft added, noting "the teachers also have regular office hours. If students need help with an assignment they can video conference individually with their teachers and get help.

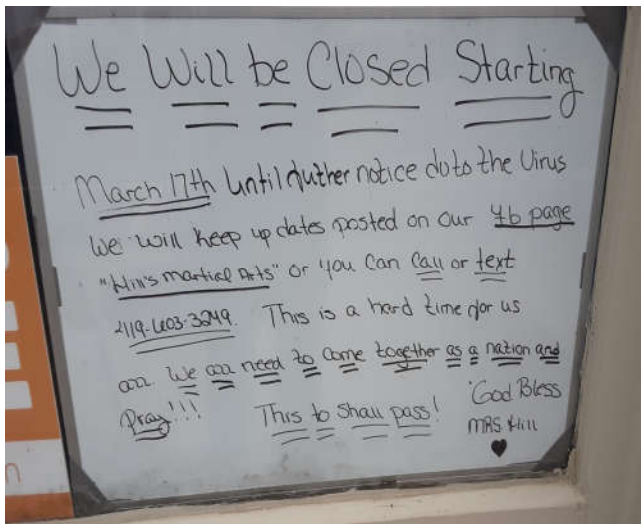

"Obviously it isn't ideal," he added "and while we all miss the actual social contact with the students, this is the best we can offer for right now."

"Staying in" takes many forms with businesses.

ENCOURAGING WORDS from Hill's Martial Arts School to their students (below) carried contact information .

Bobbi Hill then offered encouragement to students and community that "we need to come together as a nation and pray."

McDonald's took the next 'step' with walk-up service for truckdrivers who cannot drive thru.
